Doorway to style

A gracious and distinctively designed door can create one of the most enduring and lasting impressions of your home. The extensive Stegbar range of cedar doors offers you a myriad of choices to blend with any design or architectural style.

We have been designing and manufacturing doors for over fifty years based on innovative design, unsurpassed craftsmanship and leading edge technology. All of our doors are carefully constructed to give you years of great looks and trouble free operation.

Stegbar offers a range of doors for any area of your home whether it be the entry, bedrooms, bathrooms, internal doorways or kitchens. With common styles across the entry, internal and bi-fold door ranges you can match or complement all the doors in your home to create an elegant designer look.

There is a wide range of door styles to choose from to turn an ordinary area into a distinctive centrepiece in your home, or to turn poorly used space into functional and practical rooms.

Stegbar quality guarantee

All Stegbar products are guaranteed – a straight forward, easy to understand guarantee that reflects the confidence with which Stegbar recommends our products to you.

Every Stegbar product carries a specific guarantee covering workmanship, performance and durability – guarantees for as long as 7 years are not unusual with Stegbar products.

And incidentally, isn't it comforting to realise that with over 50 years' success in the building industry, Stegbar will certainly be around to offer guaranteed service, spare parts and advice should you ever need it.

How to measure your door

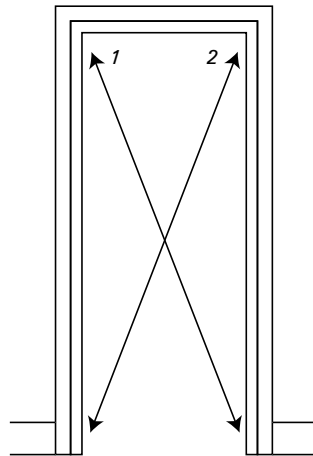

1. Measure your existing door height, width and thickness.

Height One mm
 Height Two mm
 Width Top mm
 Width Bottom mm
 Width Middle mm
 Thickness mm

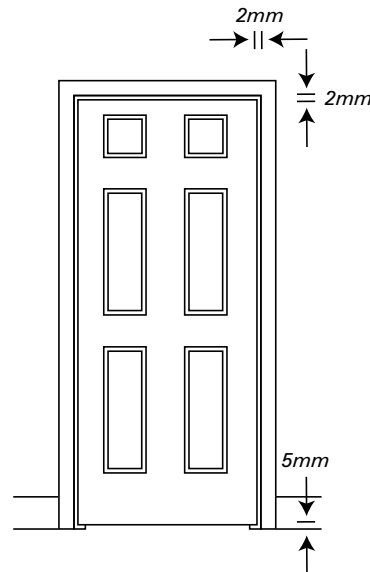

2. Check that the door opening is square. Measure the door frame diagonally. If the frame is out of square, you may have to buy a slightly larger door and trim it down to size.

Diagonal 1 mm
 Diagonal 2 mm

3. Keep in mind that approximately 2mm clearance is recommended at the top and side of the door and 5mm clearance above the floor covering or door frame sill.

Built to last: engineered solid timber

Stegbar is recognised as one of Australia's leading manufacturers of highly crafted doors, guaranteeing built-in quality and durability every time.

We use environmentally friendly methods and materials in the construction of our cedar doors. Commonly referred to as engineered timber components, this form is today world recognised as providing superior stability and structural reliability, while maintaining the warmth and visual appeal of natural solid cedar.

Engineered solid cedar is created by utilising the offcuts generated in timber manufacturing. These offcuts are finger jointed together to form long lengths. This piece of finger jointed timber is then laminated with cedar veneer to create a visually pleasing component.

Stegbar is committed to providing the most suitable components in all our products. We use engineered timber in the vertical stiles of our cedar doors because of the additional structural integrity that it adds to the door. Engineered solid cedar can be cut, shaped, planed, sanded, painted, stained or varnished as easily as natural solid cedar.

Cedar traditional entry doors

The front door of your home needs to be the ideal match of form and function. Apart from accommodating the flow of traffic through your home, giving you privacy and security when you want it or welcoming family and friends, it can say a lot about who and what is on the inside.

Stegbar entry doors are hand crafted with traditional joinery techniques and are made to the highest standards using only selected cedar. There is no mistaking the warm tones, fine grain and unique colour variations in our cedar doors.

To add your own style and help create a grand entrance to your home all doors are supplied raw, ready for your finishing coat of stain, varnish or paint.

Whether you're building or renovating Stegbar cedar entry doors create a sense of style while adding value to your home.

MC cedar entry doors

A door is much more than just an entry into your home. It's a statement of personality and style. Introducing Stegbar's new range of MC entry doors – a wonderful fusion of modern, contemporary style and Stegbar quality.

Architecturally inspired, they're simple, yet bold in design with strong square features that define an entry space.

Unlike average doors, MC entry doors are thicker (44mm), adding substantially to the integral security. They are also available in larger sizes to meet today's changing design trends for tall and wide entry doors.

Expertly engineered from the finest cedar and combined with your choice of clear, toned, or frosted glass. MC doors are supplied raw, ready for your own unique finishing touch of stain, varnish or paint that will make a statement unlike any other door.

Cedar internal doors

Using Stegbar cedar internal doors throughout your home adds a real designer touch to an area which is often overlooked.

Our internal doors make an ideal sound barrier between rooms and can be used to help cool or warm specific rooms in your home. With a Stegbar internal cedar door, creating a private retreat doesn't mean having to spoil the uncluttered look of our home.

With a variety of styles, it's easy to match or complement your entry door and give your home an elegant feel throughout. All doors are supplied raw, ready for your own finishing coat of stain, varnish or paint.

Choosing a Stegbar cedar internal door will give your home the character and quality it deserves.

Cedar internal bi-folds

Stegbar cedar internal bi-folds can make a real statement about your decorating style. Whether you are after a traditional or modern look, they offer a clever alternative to conventional doors.

With a variety of styles that match our internal doors, it's easy to continue the same look and feel throughout your home.

Internal bi-folds are a stylish and practical solution where space is at a premium as they require only about one third of the floor area using our unique "half door" leaf. They are ideal for pantries, laundries and separating dining, lounge and family room areas giving you the feeling of space, or the comfort of privacy, all from the one room.

All Stegbar internal bi-folds feature concealed overhead tracks with top and bottom pivots at jambs, and hinges between leaves, giving you an effortless and quiet operation. All doors are supplied raw, ready for your own finishing coat of stain, varnish or paint.

Other cedar doors

Stegbar also have a range of sliding, stacking and bi-fold patio doors.

The Stegbar cedar sliding patio door allows you to invite nature inside, adding an extra dimension to your living area. A choice of either two, three, four or six door combinations ensures suitability for any variety of design applications. To provide an even wider opening this door is also available in a stacking configuration where two doors slide across to stack on a third fixed door.

Our unique double deadlocking system incorporating a removable key snib provides you with confidence of improved home security, while an anti-slam device will help protect your door.

The Stegbar cedar bi-fold patio door makes a statement of both quality and elegance, whilst closed they allow an abundance of natural light into your home with easy accessibility through a single operating door. When all doors are open and folded away, the outside comes inside, providing fresh air and ventilation inside your home, and a clear unobstructed view. Bi-fold patio doors have a series of between 2 to 7 doors, alternately hinged so they fold onto themselves.

Adding value to your home

Stegbar is proud to support CanTeen, the Australian Organisation for Young People Living with Cancer.

CanTeen's mission is to support, develop and empower young people with cancer by providing a nationwide organisation that provides a peer support network for not only young cancer patients but the siblings and offspring of cancer patients as well.

Each year CanTeen delivers in excess of 80 camps and hundreds of other programs to members across Australia where they can simply be young people – away from the adult dominated environment of cancer hospitals and treatment regimes.

CanTeen's major fundraising activity is National Bandana Day held in October each year across Australia. A symbol of the Cancer experience for young people, the bandana can be worn throughout the year as a funky fashion accessory.
